Credit Union Raises Money for Breast Cancer Awareness Program

Moon Township, PA— Employees of Clearview® Federal Credit Union recently raised $1,365 for breast cancer programs by participating in the Lee National Denim Day.

Clearview employees purchased $5 Breast Cancer Awareness pins for the opportunity to wear jeans to work, raising $1,365. This was by far the highest amount raised by Clearview in the ten years that they have participated in Lee National Denim Day.

Lee Jeans founded Lee National Denim Day, one of the largest single-day fundraisers for breast cancer. Since its first year, 12 years ago, Lee National Denim Day has raised more than $75 million for the fight against breast cancer and unites nearly one million supporters nationwide each year. All funds raised this year benefit the Women's Breast Cancer Programs of the Entertainment Industry Foundation.
