Clearview names Natalie Shoop 2019 Joseph C. Cirelli Award Winner

12th annual award will benefit Helping Hands of Centerpoint

Pittsburgh, PA, November 19, 2019... Clearview Federal Credit Union has announced Natalie Shoop as the 12th Annual Joseph C. Cirelli Community Service Award recipient. On Tuesday, November 26, the award will be presented to Ms. Shoop at 10:15 a.m. at Clearview’s Moon Township location.

Ms. Shoop was nominated by Judy Neugent for her volunteer work with Helping Hands of Centerpoint in Monaca, Pa. Ms. Shoop has been a volunteer at the organization, which assists homeless and food insecure members of the community for over 25 years. Clearview will award $2,500 to Helping Hands of Centerpoint on behalf of Ms. Shoop.

Shoop serves as a facilitator for the organization, and volunteers her time with fundraising, keeping inventory, organizing, packing and distribution of supplies to those in need. She is an advocate for community involvement since promoting the value and worth of all community members. Helping Hands of Centerpoint’s goal is to help meet the basic needs of homeless and needy men, women and children in their community. Going beyond providing one-time handouts, they work with homeless shelters and school districts for long-term programming and resources.

The $2,500 award from Clearview will assist Helping Hands of Centerpoint to broaden their reach and scope in helping homeless men, women, and children across the region.
