Clearview will also be holding an employee gift basket raffle in early June with proceeds earmarked for postage of items. Located in Western Pennsylvania, Yellow Ribbon Girls is an organization that supports the nation's deployed service men and women by sending packages filled with supplies and treats. Starting in 2003 with the creation of a small amount of yellow ribbons and pins, their work has grown to over 10,000 bows and pins of all sizes. This has enabled the organization the means to ship over 38,000 packages and counting.

Senior Airman Jacob Kiss, of the 171st Air National Guard headquartered in Moon Township, stated upon receiving the packages, “So nice! Has everything in there, socks, pillowcases, snacks, ramen noodles, beef jerky, water bottles, hygiene stuff, it’s awesome! Thank you from everyone here. There’s even Girl Scout cookies! Tell them we appreciate it.”
